From the Super.....

Last year on Maundy Thursday the Rev Sam Wells offered this thought for today on the today programme

2000 years ago a body disintegrated. The Gospels portray Jesus as a teacher, healer, a charismatic leader who gathered around him a tight knit team of disciples. At the height of his ministry you can imagine him being named Israelite of the Year. On Maundy Thursday, when Jesus gathered his team around him it was a more fragile group than it appeared. Jesus held up a loaf of bread and said this is my body broken for you.

As he held out the bread to his team, he said do this and remember me. There is nothing worse than when a team disintegrates, betrays, denies, flees; that's the context of these words. Break bread and remember me. A community, a friendship, a human body can be utterly broken but it can be remembered (put back together – literally re-membered) in God; that's Jesus' promise at the Last Supper. God will put all our members back together and literally remember us. That's what resurrection is.

In all the difficulties in our communities and families, in the fractured nature of our politics, in the challenges facing our churches the prayer I offer is 'lord Remember us'. Put us back together in unity with each other, our world and our creator.

Mike
